This spectacular office was featured at the Adler on the Park Showcase House for Charity. Adina Hall, the designer of this space, was inspired by biophilic design and describes it best: "It is the ethos in design that goes beyond functionality and aesthetics to improve people's mental and physical well-being while occupying those spaces." By wrapping the room in our Serigraph CityScape textured wallcovering, screen printed in our Chicago Studio, Adina was able to create feeling of calm spaciousness in a small 12'x13' home office.
